Broke His Leg

Harry Lierly was unfortunate enough to have his leg broken last Friday night while riding home horseback. The horse shied when near a tree and Harry's leg struck a knot breaking the leg below the knee. The accident happened near Schonberg's and one of his companions went on to Lierly's, procured a wagon and hauled the injured man home. Dr. Stout was sent for and went up and set the broken member.

HORSE KILLED AND RIDER IS INJURED

Tuesday afternoon a very bad accident happened at the track in the second race, a three-eighths mile dash and repeat. The horses got started all right, but had gone but about 100 yards when H. B. Hayden's sorrel gelding Mischievous ran into the fence, tearing down about 40 yards of it, and threw the rider, Harry Piggott, heavily to the ground. Piggott escaped with three or four broken ribs. It was a miracle that he was not instantly killed. Mischievous, the horse, was so badly injured that it had to be killed. Jockey Piggott says he was crowded into the fence by another jockey. His statement is corroborated by other jockeys. This is the first accident that has happened at the track and naturally put a damper upon the rest of the proceedings.

Wharf Franchise Rejected

The attorneys for Wells, Russell & Co. appeared before the board of supervisors at this meeting and asked for a renewal of the franchise at Point Arena wharf without notice. Upon recommendation of Supervisor Lane, however, the board rejected the application.

REFUSED TO BUY VOTING MACHINES

Frank C. Jordan, clerk of the supreme court, and agent for the Standard Voting Machine, was before the board of supervisors this week trying to sell the county twelve machines at $675 each. The board listened attentively to Mr. Jordan and saw the machine tested. The machine was satisfactory in every regard, but the board refused to make any investments at this time. Messrs. Fairbanks and Barnard voted in favor of the machines and Messrs. Lane, Lawson and Gibson voted no.

Death of J. A. Poage

Word has been recently received in this city of the death of John A. Poage, a former resident of this county, at Azuza, which place has been his home since leaving here. He was the uncle of W. G. Poage of this city and formerly was a teacher and afterwards superintendent of schools, succeeding J. C. Ruddock when the latter removed to San Francisco. Mr. Poage leaves a wife and three children, the oldest of whom is married while the other two were students at Stanford University.

The cause of Mr. Poage's death was given as lockjaw. It seems that some ten days before he injured a finger nail on something rusty and lockjaw set in and tho eminent physicians were called no relief could be obtained. Mr. Poage had prospered in Southern California, being the owner of a large orange farm at Azuza.

USES A SHOTGUN TO ADVANTAGE

Wife Kills Drunken Husband Who Threatens Her Life

William Thomas Neely was shot and killed by his wife, Effie Neely, at his home near Fort Bragg Sunday evening. Neely had been drinking and upon his return home found a young man named Roberts in the house. He abused his wife, threatening to kill her with a shotgun, but the liquor he had imbibed overcame him, causing him to sink into a deep sleep.

Mrs. Neely put the shotgun away and upon her husband's awaking and recommencing his abuse she warned him to keep away from her. They were in different rooms. He called to her "I'll beat your brains out;" she replying "Don't come thru that door or I'll shoot." But the angered spouse kept a coming and as he passed thru the doorway Mrs. Neely fired point blank, the charge entering Neely's right breast below the shoulder.

"You've fixed me," he cried, "but I'll fix you."

Mrs. Neely threatened to shoot again, but it was not necessary. The wounded man sank to the floor, saying, "Oh, Effie!" and expired.

Neely is said to have frequently ill-used his wife. Coroner Whipple held an inquest and the jury acquitted the woman of all blame.

YEARLY MEETING OF BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

A very successful meeting of the Clear Lake Association of Baptist Churches was held in this city last week, beginning Thursday morning and continuing over Sunday. Nearly fifty delegates and visitors were in attendance besides many from town and the surrounding country. Among those present were Rev. C. M. Hill, D. D., president of the Baptist Theological Seminary at Berkeley; Rev. T. G. Brownson, D. D., president of California College; Rev. J. Sunderland, D. D., of Oakland, treasurer of the State convention; Rev. E. R. Bennett, general missionary of the convention, and Mrs. J. Sunderland who came in the interest of woman's work. Also Pastor McKillop of Healdsburg paid a brief visit.

The moderator's address on Thursday gave an excellent view of the field. The annual sermon on Thursday night was by Pastor M. L. Goff of Mendocino. Pastor Davis preached on Friday night and Pastor Chapman on Saturday night. All were excellent sermons. Dr. Hill preached on Sunday morning an eloquent and helpful discourse on "the church." At night he preached at the M. E. Church, South. Rev. Sturtevant, the reelected moderator, preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, and also the last sermon at the association, his theme being "Jesus Christ is to each of us just what we take him to be." All the meetings were on a high spiritual plane and their influence will be felt far into the future. The association meets next year at Mendocino.

Clerk McCowen collected $129.80 in fees last month and issued 17 marriage licenses. There were begun in the superior court 5 probate, 6 civil and 2 criminal cases during the month.

CARNIVAL CO. WELL RECEIVED

Good Shows and Courteous Attendants With Reiss Aggregation.

The Nat Reiss Southern Carnival Company will conclude their week's stay in this city tomorrow night. The concessions are clean and of a nature to commend them and they have received a liberal patronage.

Especially interesting are the attractions known as the Stadium, Coon Town 400, Peggy from Paris, Deep Sea Divers, Crazy House, Creation, Ferris Wheel and Electric Theatre.

The Stadium is the star attraction and every one of the acts are worth while seeing, and particularly the performances of Diavolo, whose remarkable feat of looping the loop on a bicycle is thrilling and exciting.

The free attraction, Madame Liljens in her sensational and fearless dive from a height of 65 feet, enveloped in flame, into a large tank, is witnessed with a feeling of awe as the woman plunges into the water from the lofty heights.

The members of the company seem to be perfect gentlemen and during ther stay here no complaint is heard of the men or company and the opinion seems to prevail that the show is conducted in a straightforward manner, and free of the general toughs that usually accompany attractions of this kind. Mr. Reiss, the proprietor, is a pleasant gentleman to meet and made many friends during his visit here.

ALL GAMBLING GAMES HAVE BEEN STOPPED

At the beginning of the races this week gambling was carried on in nearly all of the saloons in town. As this was in violation of law Sheriff Smith promptly ordered all gambling to cease. Those having the games in charge quietly submitted and have left town.

Sections 330, 331, 335 and 661 and 758 of the Penal Code are very explicit in this regard.

According to Section 330 every person who plays, deals, carries on, or conducts any game of faro, monte, roulette, lansquenet, rouge et noir, rondo, tan, fantan, stud-horse poker, seven-and-a-half, twenty-one, hokey-pokey, or any banking or percentage game played with cards, dice or any other device, for money, checks, etc., or any representative of value, and every person who plays or bets at or against any of said prohibited games is guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, or by imprisonment in county jail for six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 331 metes out the same punishment to owners or renters of houses who permit such games to be carried on within their premises.

Section 335 makes it the duty of district attorneys, sheriffs, constables and police officers to prosecute offenders against Sec. 330. Refusing or neglecting to do so renders such officers liable to punishment for a misdemeanor.

Section 661 presses down upon the officers still harder making a neglect or refusal to stop such games a violation of official duty, for which they may be removed from office and Section 758 makes such neglect or refusal on the part of said officers a crime for which grand juries may find an indictment.

The ministerial union of this city got up a petition which was largely signed and presented the same to Sheriff Smith, whereupon that officer, complaint having been made, promptly enforced the law.

It was stated that a number of the gamblers were greatly disappointed as they had come all the way up here under the belief that they would not be interfered with, or that the authorities had agreed to permit such gambling. There must be some misunderstanding about this as the law is stronger on this point than any other. Section 337 of the Penal Code makes it a felony for any officer to vote for any ordinance or law giving or granting or pretending to give or grant any one authority to violate the provisions of the law quoted above.

There is no necessity for any hard feeling over the matter. The State law prohibits certain kinds of gambling, complaint was made and the officers enforced the law. The law was tested in Sacramento, the case being one against the chief of police, and the supreme court has handed down a decision upholding the law.

DEATH OF MRS. PAULINE FRASIER

Mrs. Pauline Frasier, beloved wife of our fellow townsman L. B. Frasier, died in this city last Tuesday morning at the age of 66 years. She had been sick for a long time and death came as a relief to her.

Mrs. Frasier was born in Spencer county, Kentucky, Sept. 13, 1839, and came to California with her husband in 1871. They resided in this county for about 20 years, most of the time being in the vicinity of Potter valley. Mrs. Frasier was a noble woman and leaves many friends in the county who will hear of her death with sorrow. She leaves a husband and nine children to mourn her death. The funeral took place Wednesday morning from the M. E. Church, South.

Badly "Warped"

Bill Rector passed thru Yorkville two weeks ago en route to Ukiah. He arrived here safely by hand this week a little bit "warped" but still in the ring. On his way over it rained and he had to "hang up a sheet." He is all right now, however, and expects to get back to Cloverdale in time to "climb a tree backwards," he says. Good boy, Bill.

A STRANGER IN CAMP.

He Got Some Belated Information That Needed Correction.

It is best to be sure of the ground before one goes too far. A mining expert tells in the New York Press something that happened to him when, in the self confidence of his youth, he was prospecting near what is now Leadville. He had been after a load of supplies and rode into camp alone at noon one day. It was no uncommon thing for a stranger to come to a camp and wait for the owner's return, so the prospector was not surprised to see a man sitting at the door of the rough hut or shelter.

Paying no particular attention to the guest, I cast the lash rope from the pack and called him to help remove the load. He responded cheerfully, and that done I told him to rustle a little wood and we'd have dinner. He quickly brought a load of dead limbs, and I sent him for a second lot. Then he asked what further service he could perform. Wishing to humor his desire for work, I told him he could fill the camp kettles at the creek. After this I graciously gave him permission to sit down while I got dinner.

Among my various weaknesses at that time was that of imparting unrestricted information to apparent uninstructed strangers. The [illegible] came from a desire to escape the tantalizing distinction of [illegible]derfoot which I then enjoyed.

No sooner were we at the table, which was a board we [illegible] two trees, than I began [illegible] forth a Niagara of information concerning mines and mining. He proved an excellent listener, and his appreciation encouraged and gratified me.

Finally, my information becoming exhausted, I had to resort to other things. I happened to turn to the civil war and sailed along, manufacturing history right and left and making a free gift of it to the stranger. Pausing a moment for breath, I was startled by my hearer modestly venturing a correction as to a portion of the mass of detail I had so generously given him.

I began to reconnoiter. Had he been in the army? Well, yes, he had.

"Were you a private or an officer?"

"Well, an officer."

"How did you rank?"

"Well, I suppose I ranked as a general at the close of the war."

I realized trouble was ahead and meekly inquired:

"What may I call your name?"

"My name is Logan," he replied.

For the first time I scrutinized his face. There could be no mistake in the dark, swarthy features of the man, the long hair, the high cheek bones. Smiling a sickly smile, I slowly rose, stretched my hand across the table, grasped his and said:

"General Logan, I can only express my regret at not having been able to furnish you with this information at an earlier date. It might have changed your course of action during the war."

The general laughed heartily; but, best of all, although he remained in the camp several [illegible] he did not mention the [illegible] the presence of others.

Philosophical.

Sir William Hamilton, who was appointed astronomer royal for Ireland at the age of twenty-two and who discovered quaternions, kept a [illegible] horse and on one occasion mounted him in Dublin just as a mathematical problem had suggested itself to him. The horse took a mean advantage of the rider's abstraction and ran away. "When I found it impossible to stop him," the philosopher said, "I gave him his head and returned to the problem. He ran for four miles and stood still at my gate, just as the problem was solved."

Brazilian Stew.

Brazilian stew is delicious. To make, yell grease the bottom of a saucepin. Put in the meat and shred thinly any vegetables you like and enough onion to well flavor. Lay these on top, sprinkle with pepper and salt and cook over a very slow fire for two or three hours. No water is needed.

Democratic Opportunity

Mr. Bryan has announced thru the columns of his paper, The Commoner, that the principal cause of Democratic defeat this year was that the men who secured control of the party organization at St. Louis sounded a retreat when a charge should have been ordered all along the line. He insists that conditions demand radical action, and that the people want something definite upon which they can rely. The Commoner, he announces, will carry on a campaign of education, advocating tariff reform, the overthrow of private monopolies, labor legislation, municipal ownership of public utilities, public ownership of railroads and telegraph systems, an income tax, the election of federal judges by the people, the election of United States senators by popular vote, direct legislation, and the selection of postmasters by the people whom they are to serve.

It will be necessary to regain control of the party organization. To do this the friends of reform thruout the entire country must work together. A Democratic paper of national scope offers the best means for carrying on this work, and the Commoner occupies this field. The campaign of education and organization which Mr. Bryan announces will be carried on thru the Commoner regularly so as to keep in touch with the progress the reform forces are making, and to fortify himself with facts and arguments to convince his Republican neighbor that the Democratic party offers the surest relief from class legislation and trust domination.

The low rate which Mr. Bryan has quoted on his paper enables us to send out The Commoner and THE DISPATCH both one year for $3.25. Get your neighbors to join you in circulating Democratic literature, and the election returns in 1908 will not call for apologies or explanations. tf

A JUDICIOUS INQUIRY.

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by J. R. Mathews' Pharmacy.

A Short Way With Duns.

In former times, when the highland chieftains were not so prompt in their payment, a tradesman from the low country, impatient for his money, found, with some difficulty, the way to one of their castles. Arriving at night, he had his supper and was put to bed. On looking out in the morning he observed opposite to his window a man hanging on a tree. Asking a servent the reason of it, he was told he was a Glasgow merchant who had the impudence to come here and dun the laird. The tradesman, immediately calling for his boots, went off without unfolding his errand. The laird had caused the effigy of a man to be hung up in the night and instructed his servants what to say, which had the desired effect.—Scottish American.

PRSIDENTIAL ELECTION WILL MAKE NO CHANGE.

No matter which candidate is elected, Foley's Honey and Tar will remain the people's favorite remedy for coughs, colds and incipient consumption. It cures colds quickly and prevents pneumonia. A. J. Nusbaum, Batesville, Ind., writes: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried Foley's Honey and Tar and eight doses cured me." Sold by E. B. Gibson.

CONSUMPTIVES MADE COMFORTABLE.

Incipient consumpsion is cured by Foley's Honey and Tar, but we do not hold out false hopes to consumptives by claiming that it will cure this dread disease in the advanced stages; but if the lungs are not too far gone Foley's Honey and Tar will effect a cure, as it stops the racking cough and soothes the inflamed air passages giving them a chance to heal, and even in the advanced stages it always gives comfort and relief. A. A. Herren, of Finch, Ark., writss: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best preparation for coughs and lung trouble. I know that it has cured consumption in the first stages." Sold by E. B. Gibson.

A Greasy Sink.

A greasy sink is not to be tolerated, and the cleaning of it if it be of glazed ware may be easily accomplished with the aid of kerosene. Dip a piece of flannel in a little of the oil and then rub it over the sink. All the grease and dirt will quickly come off, and the smell of the kerosene can be easily removed by washing with soap and hot water. This treatment will also have a cleansing effect on the sink pipes.

Secret of Good Jelly.

The secret of good jelly and delicious preserves lies in the selection of the fruit, which should be firm and not overripe. Too ripe fruit will never turn to jelly. Never cook any fruits in tin. The preserving kettle should be porcelain, granite or enamel ware. Have a large spoon of same material. Use dry white sugar, preferably granulated.

How Peking Is Not Lighted.

Emil Bard, a French writer, tells how Peking is lighted, as follows: "Eighty thousand taels ($50,400) are assigned each year for street lights. The official in charge takes 40,000 taels as his share and gives the rest to a subordinate. This latter hands over 20,000 taels to his inferior, and so on, until the original sum is reduced to a few copper cash, given to a cooly to buy oil and a wick. These are placed on a plate on the ground. A beggar comes along and drinks the oil—and such is the lighting of Peking."

All surface cancers are now known to be curable, by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. James Walters, of Duffield, Va., writes: "I had a cancer on my lip for years that seemed incurable, till Bucklen's Arnica Salve healed it, and now it is perfectly well." A Threatened Suit.

"I notice," said the determined young woman, "that you don't care to sit alone in the parlor here with me any more."

"Oh, I don't know!" replied the lover, who was growing cold. "Why?"

"Well, I just want to remark that you'll either have your courting in here or your hearing in court."—Philadelphia Ledger.

INSOMNIA AND INDIGESTION CURED.

"Last year I had a very severe attack of indigescion. I could not sleep at night and suffered most excruciating pains for three hours after each meal. I was troubled this way for about three months when I used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and received immediate relief," says John Dixon, Tullamore, Ontario, Canada. For sale by J. R. Mathews' Pharmacy.

Followed by Fire.

Horatio F. Brown, a London writer on Venetian subjects, has had a singular experience with fire. The original draft of Brown's first and best known work, "Life on the Lagoons," perished in the blaze which destroyed the offices of its publisher, Kegan Paul, in 1883. The manuscript of his "Study in the Venetian Inquisition" was burned in a mail car in Switzerland two years later, and a similar fate overtook both that of his "Calendar of Venetian State Papers" at the fire at Spottiswoode's in 1892 and that of his "Studies in Archaeology." The latter was consumed in the burning of Cecil Rhodes' house, Rondebosch, Cape Town, in 1895.

Her Explanation.

"Your honor," said the lawyer, "my client acknowledges that she struck the book agent with a piece of gas pipe, but she pleads that it was a case of mistaken identity."

"How's that?" asked the judge.

"Well, she thought it was her husband."—Baltimore American.

Most Surprising.

"I've got something to say to you, Miss Knox," began Sapwit, who had finally summed up courage to propose, "that—aw—may surprise you. I think"—

"You do? That certainly does surprise me!" interrupted the cruel girl.—Philadelphia Press.

A Sure Thing.

He—Wasn't that you on the piazza last night?

She—No.

He—Then I wonder who in the world it was I kissed?

She—You can probably tell by going there tonight at the same time.—Life.

Second Thoughts.

Madge—Did Charley propose to you out in the auto?

Dolly—I thought he was going to, but he didn't. When he got down on his knees it was only to crawl under the old machine.—Puck.

HOW TO CURE CORNS AND BUNIONS.

First, soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it; then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequaled. For sale by J. R. Mathews' Pharmacy.

Plants That Mimic Stones.

In South Africa a plant of the genus mesembryanthemum, growing on stony ground, so closely resembles a pebble that it has been picked up in mistake for a stone. Another species of the same plant growing on the Karru produces leaves about as large as ducks' eggs, having a surface resembling speckled stone of a brownish gray color, tinted with green. These plants look like stones, but for a short time they put forth bright yellow flowers. Still another species of the same plant resembles the quartz pebbles among which it grows.

SOME SEASONABLE ADVICE.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by J. R. Mathews' Pharmacy.

A LITTLE NONSENSE.

This Man Might Have No Use For Cemetery Lot.

Speaker Cannon at a dinner he attended in Washington some time ago talked about mean rich men.

"The meanest rich man in Illinois," he said, "lives in Vermilion county. He is a bachelor and we'll call him Crust.

"One day the superintendent of the local cemetery told his salesman to call on Crust and see if he couldn't work off a cemetery lot on him.

"The salesman set out with a hopeless air, and in a half hour he was back again.

"'No go,' he said.

"'Couldn't get him, eh?' said the superintendent.

"'No,' said the salesman. 'He admitted that I reasoned well and that the lots were fine ones, but he said that if he bought one he might not get the value of his money in the end.'

"'Why,' said the superintendent, 'there's no fear of that. The man will die some day, won't he?'

"'Yes,' said the salesman, 'but he says he might be lost at sea.'"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A LIFE SAVING SUIT.

A London tailor has invented a new life saving coat and gaiters, with which it is possible for a person clothed therein to maintain an upright position when immersed in the water, even if not possessing any knowledge of swimming. The coat resembles in appearance an ordinary pilot's coat, but it is fitted with an air belt which is inflated with air through a tube. The gaiters each weigh two pounds and are fitted with two brass wings or blades fastened to the back of the heel. As the wearer moves his feet in the water these wings open and shut, and not only propel the wearer along like oars, but enable him to maintain an upright position from the waist upward in the water. A practical demonstration of the utility of the invention was recently undertaken in the Thames by the inventor, and its efficiency and life saving qualities clearly shown, even when moving against the tide.

A Dose For the Doctors.

"Reuben Fields, the Johnson county mathematician, who is considered by many to be an idiotic wonder, stopped at a hotel in a small town in Henry county recently," says the Oak Grove (Mo.) Banner. "As usual in such places there were a number of drummers on hand. There was also a meeting of some medical men at the place, who used the hotel as headquarters. One of the doctors thought it would be quite a joke to tell Fields that some of the M. D.'s had concluded to kidnap him and take out his brains to learn how it was he was so good in mathematics. He was then asked by them what he was going to do about it. Fields replied, 'I will go on without brains just like you doctors are doing.'"

Tossed For a Name.

The name of William Travers Jerome, New York's district attorney, was decided by the toss of a coin. His father, Lawrence Jerome, was a great friend of William Travers, the wealthy stockbroker, whose stutter and jokes used to keep his friend in continual laughter. When Jerome's son was born the father could not decide whether to choose his own or his friend's name. "T—t—toss for it," suggested Travers, and they did. The stockbroker won, and the boy was namel William Travers Jerome. It was Travers who advised a stuttering acquaintance to consult a certain doctor regarding his affliction. "You c—c—can depend on his h—h—helping you," said Travers, "for he c—c—cured me."

Facts From England.

Some curious facts are disclosed in a blue book dealing with the revenue of Great Britain during the year 1904-05. Fines for slave dealing brought in about $200, while "conscience money" came to over $5,000. The revenue on playing cards amounted to over $1,000,000. The sweepings of the gold and silver rooms in the mint realized $5,890, while some of the properties left over from the coronation of King Edward were sold for $35. Nearly a dozen pensions on the civil lists of George IV. and William IV. are still being paid.

Alaska.

It is not generally known that Nome, Alaska, is 300 miles west of Honolulu and that the territory itself has two and one-half times as much coast line as the rest of the United States. The Yukon carries as much water as the Mississippi and is ninety miles wide at its mouth. The output of canned salmon is estimated at $10,000,000 for the year 1905.

Party Ideals

W. J. Bryan, the greatest living American, was in San Francisco last week on his way to the orient to make a study of conditions there. He gave his splendid lecture on "The Value of an Ideal" before leaving. Some of the grand thots expressed are given below:

"We are far enough from the election, if what happened last fall can properly be called an election, to consider together the important question of raising our party ideals—the ideals of both great parties. The question is asked how can a party be sure of victory. I tell you that there is only one sure way. The party having the highest ideals will be the dominant party in the years to come. We are living today in an age of corruption in politics. The selling of votes is on the increase. Not only the voter, but the legislator, and even the Federal law-maker, can be found who is willing to give himself over to public plunder for private gain.

"If corruption is to be stopped in politics, we must put public conscience against money. Stopping corruption by corruption is ridiculous. This conscience must not be a Democrat or a Republican conscience, but an American conscience. I believe there is no spot in this country where the public conscience cannot be appealed to with hope of ultimate victory. The recent victory of good citizenship in corrupt Philadelphia was the most splendid victory ever won in any city in the last quarter of a century.

"All the parties make mistakes. That is to be expected. But there is this difference, that the majority, when it makes a mistake, quickly corrects it. The minority makes mistakes, and often finds it so profitable that it is slow to make a change. The people have a right to anything they want. I am willing to submit every question to the people. If the people want to make changes, running the whole gamut of political opinion, let them so declare themselves. The people can have the gold standard if they want it. What more can I concede in the interests of harmony?

"None of us can afford to defend a dishonest party or one that has not high ideals. I want our parties to have political ideals of the highest. Then we will fight our battles on a high plane. I want those ideals to persevere which will bring the most good to my country. I would rather that my enemies should bring good to my country than that any mistake of mine should bring it harm. If my political enemies bring good to my country, they are not my enemies, but my friends.

"Higher than any party ideals is the national ideal. The one national ideal in America has been that ours is the one flag that stands for human rights and the doctrine of independence.

"Our much boasted Anglo-Saxon civilization has taught men to protect their own rights. I wish to go one step further and have American civilization teach men to respect the rights of others. The Anglo-Saxon ideal has taught men to die for their own rights. I would have the American have men to die rather than trample on the rights of others. If I may be permitted to touch upon a recent event, I would say that the President's act in bringing two warring powers to peace on American soil has done more to establish this Nation's prestige than a generation of wars of conquest."

Party Feeling Subsiding

The eclipse (probably temporary) of party feeling, is becoming more and more evident, says the Fresno Republican. Philadelphia and San Francisco are conducting municipal campaigns in which party lines are merged. Bryan has just started around the world sending back a parting greeting to President Roosevelt, assuring him of his hearty support. Cleveland would doubtless be equally cordial, if there were any occasion. A party of Democratic and Republican congressmen arrived from the Philippines yesterday, and practically of one opinion on the issues that have divided parties. The revelations of insurance company contributions to Republican campaign funds have called forth denunciations from all the Republican papers in the land, while very few Democratic papers (or intelligent ones) have sought to make party capital out of the fact that the contributions were to the Republican rather than to the Democratic fund. The Democratic governor of Missouri after a laudatory introduction to a California audience by the Republican governor of California, made a speech praising the Republican president and the Republican mayor of Philadelphia. When Wisconsin elected its Republican governor, La Follette, to the senate, the Democratic Examiner praised the choice. This is only a beginning of illustrations, caught at random. The list is indefinite, and a new example is made every time an intelligent Democrat and Republican begins to talk politics. The "era of good will" has come.

BACK in Ohio the Republicans have become alarmed and fear that they will lose the State to the Democrats. A great effort is being made by the Democrats and independent Republicans to defeat the reelection of Gov. Herrick. The Republican State Committee has become alarmed and has sent all over the United States to get Republican Congressmen and orators to come to Ohio and take the stump for Herrick. They have sent invitations to Congressman Kahn and former Congressman Barham and these gentlemen have decided to go back and howl for Herrick.

An old farmer remarks that a home-grown, hand-spanked, bare-footed and hard-fisted country boy makes a much better fighter in the battles of life than does the pampered, high-collared, creased-trousered youth of our towns and cities, whose clothes have always been dusted with a whisk broom instead of a shingle, according to the Kansas City Journal.

[illegible] prevailing opinion that this will be the most abundant of all years the United States has ever known. This should mean national [illegible] as all other industries are dependent upon farming. When the farmer has money in his pocket, almost everybody else is likely to have [illegible]

MORE HARD WORK FOR MR. SEYMOUR

As a result of disclosures made last Monday to District Attorney Seymour of Sacramento and the grand jury, there is likely to be a greater sensation than ever in the legislative scandal and as a consequence there is fear and trembling in high places.

Former Assemblyman Fayette Mitcheltree of Palo Alto declared on Monday that he was in possession of facts which would prove that the Ralston bill was defeated in the last legislature by means of bribery, and has the names of the legislators who received money for their votes. This information he is to give District Attorney Seymour.

Billy Nolan was before the grand jury Monday and the discoveries made are such that it was announced that the jury would not be discharged pending an exhaustive investigation which would be started at once. This is along the line of Micheltree's statement, but it is independent of his information. Mitcheltree declares he was approached and offered money for his vote against the bill. He says he can prove by a number of witnesses that five assemblymen at least accepted bribes.

U. H. S. Notes

Oct. 6, 1905.—The seniors' blue sweaters are very neat and attractive. They are not only ornamental but are also very useful. This latter quality is what places them high above the other class distinctions, for they are not simply a thing of the moment.

The high school party given last Briday evening at York & Cleland's hall was a decided success. The evening was passed in games and dancing, so everybody had ample opportunity to enjoy himself, and did so. The event was much the more enjoyable on account of the presence of three students of the fair sex from Mendocino High who were over here on a visit for a few days.

This week has been a very trying one on the teachers, as for some unaccountable reason lessons have been lagging, students have been sleepy and inattentive. And I think the cause of the trouble lies in the fact the Ferris wheel can be seen climbing to its lofty heights, even to the late hour of eleven p. m.

That the high school track team has at least one firm friend is shown in the fact that Mr. Caughey, the present county auditor, and at one time a teacher in the school, has very kindly given the track team the use of his new swimming tank every Thursday afternoon. This privilege is highly appreciated and I know the members of the team one and all do most gratefully thank Mr. Caughey for this courtesy.

A STUDENT.

Had Ukiah Cold Feet?

Why didn't the Ukiah team play the Mendocino Colts, coast champions of '04 and '05 when they had the opportunity? Why did they take on these two teams—Fort Bragg that won one game in two years and Albion that won three in the same time off the Colts? Why didn't they try for the championship of the county? It was simply a matter of cold feet. The manager of the Colts asked for the game thru Mr. Jackson before their challenge came out and then could not get a chance to play. The Colts are not swelled up because Ukiah was afraid to play them, but think it is a shame when a championship game could be played that Ukiah should get those awful "cold feet."

Redwood Buhrl Work.

J. L. Dodge, a prominent Mendocino resident, was in Ukiah Monday to meet his wife and son on their arrival from San Francisco. Mr. Dodge brot along a handsome specimen of manufactured redwood buhrl which has become with him a hobby that threatens to surpass his other business. He is crowded with orders for the polished novelties and is contemplating adding machinery to his workshop to enable him to keep up with the demand.

W. W. CUNNINGHAM RETURNS FROM EAST

W. W. Cunningham, who left here a month ago on a trip to his boyhood home down in Sunny Tennessee, returned to this city last Tuesday evening. Mr. Cunningham spent most of his time in Kentucky and Tennessee and had a most enjoyable time. He is over 80 years old, but he felt just like a boy again when he got down among the cotton fields and tobacco plantations. He stood the trip all right and would not have missed it for the world. Mr. Cunningham was accompanied on his trip by J. C. Ruddock, who was a delegate to the Great Council of Red Men.

Coast Couple Wedded

Monday evening Robert L. Gurley, of Mendocino, and Miss Alice Docker, of Comptche, were married at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. O. L Stanley in this city by the Reverend Otho Wilkison. The groom is a highly respected young man of the coast city and the bride is a charming and popular young lady who has a large circle of friends. The young couple spent a few days visiting in Ukiah and then took their departure for Comptcha, where they will reside for the present. The many friends of the newly wedded pair will wish them every happiness.

P. L. Hall was down from Willits yesterday on business.

Johnny Dale, of Comptche, spent several days in Ukiah this week.

Mrs. J. O. Sponogh is up from San Francisco on a visit to Mrs. Kate Sweasey.

C. M. Curley and Miss Carrie Stingley came over from Point Arena yesterday and will remain for the races. Mr. Curley is also a trial juror and will stay here until next week.

Will Oppenlander and his mother, Mrs. Charles Oppenlander, came over from Comptche Wednesday. Will remained here to take in the races and his mother left for Humboldt county to visit her daughter, who is teaching school there.

A. M. Johnson, of the editorial department of the Call, came up from the city this week after his mother and sister, who have been enjoying a two weeks' vacation in our midst. They were more than pleased with Ukiah and surrounding country.

St. John's M. E. Church Services Sunday, Oct. 8th.—Preaching at 11 a m and 7:30 p. m.—morning sermon followed by sacrament of the Lord's supper. In the evening there will be a twenty minute song service preceding the sermon. The pastor will sing the famous "Tell Mother I'll be There." Sunday school at 9:45 a. m., Epworth League at 6:30 p. m., prayer meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m. The public is cordially invited. W. B. BURTON, Pastor.

T. A. Lucas, who has been in the delivery business here for the past five years, sold his business this week to Green Clark. Mr. Lucas will have charge of the lumber yard for Lucas Bros. Tom certainly did well in the delivery business, working it up from almost nothing to a splendid business. His energy in this line resulted in the people electing him to a position on the board of city trustees. That he will have the same success in the lumber business is the wish of all.

Rules of Diet For Those Inclined to Be Corpulent.

With regard to diet for those inclined to obesity certain rules must be strictly observed.

Any fluids during meals should be avoided, and stimulants should be abstained from altogether.

Soup should be eliminated from the dinner menu. Fattening foods must be avoided—that is to say, those containing fat or carbonaceous substances. The latter are found in bread, sugar, potatoes, many puddings, pastry, etc., while fats, such as cream, butter, etc., must be used sparingly, though not given up suddenly, as certain evils might ensue from too rapid a change of diet.

With much proteid diet, such as is obtained from oatmeal, milk, peas, beans, cheese and other things, water as a beverage during the day is particularly necessary to carry off waste material, as otherwise all such work should fall to the kidneys and would be too much for them.

All those with corpulent tendencies should eat plenty of fruit and vegetables, which contain certain salts, invaluable as a preventive of disease.
